Both men have been repeatedly questioned at Guantanamo by American intelligence officers. Al-Banna claims he was kept in interrogation rooms for up to 14 hours a day with the air-conditioning on full so that it was freezing cold.

Counties Being Sued Over Death of Jail Inmate

Parents of a man who died in the Christian County jail are suing the county. And they're suing officials in Ozark and Taney Counties, too.

Linda and Lamar Davidson claim a jailer in Christian County did not get medical treatment as quickly as he should have gotten it when the parents found their son was ill during a visit. He died about four hours later.

Their son, Mickey, had been held in the Taney County jail until he reportedly was moved to the Ozark County jail because of overcrowding in Taney County, and then was shifted to Christian County because of a charge filed against him there.

5. The Cold Cell: The prisoner is left to stand naked in a cell kept near 50 degrees. Throughout the time in the cell the prisoner is doused with cold water.

While in isolation he has, in addition to the temperature extremes, been subjected to other sensory torments. His cell is frequently unbearably cold because the air conditioning is turned up to the maximum. Sometimes his captors take his orange jump suit and sheet, leaving him only in his shorts. For a week at a time, Bisher constantly shivers and is unable to sleep because of the extreme cold. Once, when Bisher attempted to warm himself by covering himself with his prayer rug, one of the few "comfort items" permitted to him, his guards removed it for "misuse".

Cold torture involves forced exposure to extreme cold...
 SUCH AS Super Airconditioned COLD CELLS
<http://today.reuters.com/news/articlenews.aspx?type=topNews&storyid=2007...>

"The history of American torture research is elegantly laid out in Alfred McCoy's book . . . [He] shows how the use of isolation, standing, exposure to hot and cold, light and dark, noise and silence, sleep deprivation, hooding and stress positions creates a total assault on all senses and sensibilities."â€ Jonathan P. Baird, The Concord Monitor

The most commonly reported torture techniques were severe beatings (97%), threats (89%), humiliations (80%), verbal sexual humiliations (77%), forced incongruent acts (66%), social isolation (54%), hygienic deprivation (53%), being tied down (52%), nutritional deprivation (52%), sleep deprivation (52%), sensory deprivation (43%), health service deprivation (41%), forced labor (26%), hair torture (17%), prolonged standing (15%), undressing in front of others (15%), cold torture (14%), chepuwa (14%), and ear torture (11%). Incongruent acts are acts that are a violation of one's cultural or religious norms. For example, being forced to eat beef or pork is spiritual torture for most higher-caste Hindus. Sensory deprivation involves deprivation of various sensory stimuli such as light or sound (eg, being blindfolded, hooded, or kept in a dark room). Hair torture involves being dragged by the hair or having hair pulled out or burned. Cold torture involves forced exposure to extreme cold, such as snow. Chepuwa is a Bhutanese torture technique that involves tight clamping of the thighs or legs with bamboo, sometimes for a number of days. During chepuwa the torturer may press the 2 sides of the clamps with his legs or may stand on the 2 sides of the clamps.⁵⁷

A startling exposé of the CIA's development and spread of psychological torture, from the Cold War to Abu Ghraib and beyond
In this revelatory account of the CIA's secret, fifty-year effort to develop new forms of torture, historian Alfred W. McCoy uncovers the deep, disturbing roots of recent scandals at Abu Ghraib and Guantanamo. Far from aberrations, as the White House has claimed, A Question of Torture shows that these abuses are the product of a long-standing covert program of interrogation.

Developed at the cost of billions of dollars, the CIA's method combined "sensory deprivation and self-inflicted pain" to create a revolutionary psychological approach "the first innovation in torture in centuries. The simple techniques involving isolation, hooding, hours of standing, extremes of hot and cold, and manipulation of time constitute an all-out assault on the victim's senses, destroying the basis of personal identity. McCoy follows the years of research which, he reveals, compromised universities and the U.S. Army and the method's dissemination, from Vietnam through Iran to Central America. He traces how after 9/11 torture became Washington's weapon of choice in both the CIA's global prisons and in "torture-friendly" countries to which detainees are dispatched. Finally McCoy argues that information extracted by coercion is worthless, making a case for the legal approach favored by the FBI.

Scrupulously documented and grippingly told, A Question of Torture is a devastating indictment of inhumane practices that have spread throughout the intelligence system, damaging American laws, military, and international standing.

The power of prayer
April 4, 2006
By Ron Cleek

It was a nice fall day in 1965 at my family's home just south of Jackson, Tenn. My brother and I were watching a football game on TV when our aunt called and asked if she could borrow some of Mom's dishes.

Our aunt and uncle lived just down the road. Mom was going to drive over the dishes, but she sometimes let my older brother, who was 14, turn the car around in the driveway. I was 9, and when Mom said my brother could turn the car I went with him.

We had a 1959 Ford Edsel. My brother and I had done the maneuver many times. But something went wrong that afternoon. As my brother was moving the car, the passenger door opened and I fell out. Before my brother could stop, he had run over me. I was pinned under the car.

Everything went black. At first, the darkness scared me. But then I noticed three figures standing in front of me. The middle figure told me not to worry because everything would be all right. I believe God sent those messengers to give me peace in response to our family's prayers of faith.

Those prayers brought my uncle to our home. He saw what happened and suddenly had the strength to lift the front of the car while my mother and brother pulled me from under it.

As I regained consciousness, I realized Mom was kneeling next to me praying and continued until the arrival of the ambulance from Jackson. She and my father prayed for me throughout the ordeal. They prayed in English, and they prayed in the Spirit in a heavenly language. They just kept praying.

Doctors told my parents I might not make it through the night. The car's tire had been on my neck. They said blood rushed to my head with such force that brain damage would probably result.

When I did survive the night, my parents were told to expect a long hospital stay. But they went home and prayed. In four days, I was sent home.

I missed about a month of school, but God completely healed me. I am not crippled or handicapped in any way. I graduated from law school at Oral Roberts University in 1985 and now serve as the elected prosecutor for Christian County, Mo. I'm blessed with a wonderful wife and two sons, as well as a great church family.

It happened because God answered the faithful prayers of my parents more than 40 years ago.

Mr. Johnson you can maybe get a COPY from RON CLEEK at his office in Ozark, and

Johnson using FELONY PERJURY to railroad someone into JAIL seems to be ACCEPTABLE to Ron Cleek and Mike Robertson !!!!
